I have two versions of the dragon here. Version #1 One is where the kiddo looks like they are riding the dragon, in which case you need to create a neck. Use some of the cardboard to create a tube shape. Tape this securely onto the front of the dragon. Cut out the wings. Leave a tab on the edge to tape to the body. Cut out a hole in your main box.

In the seventies the Yugoslav avant-garde contributed key players to the international arena of art. The work of Marina Abramovic and Ulay, Braco Dimitrijevic and others made an impact at the Biennales of Paris and Sydney; the articles of Zoran Popovic were cited by Art & Language; and many important figures such as Joseph Beuys, Joseph Kosuth and Simone Forti made contact with the art scene in Belgrade or performed at its progressive Student Cultural Centre. Since those heady days Belgrade has become an isolated city and Serbs are ostracised by the international community. What has happened to the art scene in Serbia? How do artists survive in an economy ruined by war and by sanctions? How do they react to the stress of demonisation? Anthony Howell is a frequent visitor to Serbia. In this journal he describes the intellectual life which continued to flourish in Belgrade (at least until his last visit in the spring of 1997), lectures by Victor Burgin and by the British Ambassador, exhibitions, theatre festivals and events by Serb artists, his own performances and how they were received, his excursions to historical sites and his intimate relationship with a young woman in Belgrade which revitalised his existence after the death of his mother.

This book assists the busy professional with ready-to-use materials to present entertaining, educational, and age-appropriate programs that introduce young learners to countries and cultures around the world.

Perfect for fans of Raina Telgemeier and All's Faire in Middle School, this sequel to the Eisner Award-nominated The Cardboard Kingdom follows the kids as they solve the mystery of a new neighborhood monster. A mystery is afoot in the Cardboard Kingdom. Vijay, the Beast, renounces his title after being bullied by neighborhood teenagers. No one--not his big sister Shikha or his friends--can seem to draw him back out of his shell. That very night is when it starts. At first, no one believes Nate, who breaks his leg trying to pursue what he saw from his bedroom window. But then there's another, and another. An unknown monster has been spotted roaming the Kingdom after dark. It's ghastly, it's quick, and it might even have giant tentacles. Or claws. Or wings. Okay, there might be some varied testimonies on what exactly this monster looks like. Forget Halloween--the newly minted Monster Mashers will go to any lengths to protect the Kingdom and uncover this mystery. But how did the monster get here? What does it want? And mostly importantly, who is behind its creation?
