A paperback travel edition, with thinner paper, to bring along with you for inspiration, catharsis, or to throw into a fire. ___A book filled with miniature diorama photography, but it's so much more than that. A self portrait, a found identity, a tailored self. This book is the culmination of over a years worth of photos, planning, painting and soul searching, presented here as my full vision. It includes 84 images (65 from Monochrome, 15 from Polychrome, and 4 that serve as transitions between the 2 halves of the series), as well as full dollhouse images and accessory pages with the accessories printed to scale. There are also info pages on me as an artist and the 2 series halves as well as behind the scenes images. The book can be "read" either forward or backward.

This eight-volume set brings together primary texts which reveal the complexity of opinion about abolition and emancipation during this period. Volume I collects whole works and selections which represent everything written by late 18th-century and early 19th century black writers. Volume II presents documents from the abolition debate. Volumes III (poetry), IV (drama), and V (fiction) contain the most influential and representative literary pieces. Volume VI reprints excerpts from slavery's representations in narrative. Finally, Volumes VII and VIII document how the growing mass of ethnological, scientific, botanical, epidemiological, and geographical data supplied a ready source for all kinds of schemes designed to reduce strangeness to order. The index is in Volume VIII. Distributed by Ashgate. Annotation c. Book News, Inc., Portland, OR (booknews.com).
