Designed for small drama groups and schools Each of the five plays is presented first as a short story as it would appear in a magazine and then as a proper drama script. Less experienced new actors and directors may find the story version of help in understanding how to portray the scripts. The dialogue is the same in both but the story version does not need any spoiler alerts and is closer to being what the audience will feel. The dialogues have been chosen with the intention of reducing the possibility of causing offence. Special Licencing Available for Amateur Groups For genuine amateur groups and for schools (excluding professional drama schools), a perpetual performance licence will be deemed to be granted for all 5 plays if the organization purchases and retains at least 5 copies of the book. THE INTERVIEW (10 Minutes) When George applies for a job at Oberlong Industries he finds he is not the only candidate. But he is convinced his arrogance and blustering will see him through. CAN I SPEAK TO JOHN (20 Minutes) Soti was sure she had dialled the telephone number correctly. But when it turns out to be a wrong number, what happens is certainly not what she was expecting. (Based on a genuine event !) AMERICANO (35 Minutes) Helen and Gail are going to be meeting their boyfriends, Adam and Bert, in the university cafe. When they decide to test Adam's commitment to Gail, things do not happen exactly as planned. REHEARSAL TIME (15 Minutes) Patsy and Martin will be getting married soon but first there is the small issue of the wedding rehearsal. THE AUDITIONS (20 to 60 minutes - you choose !) The author of a new play decides to adapt his play to suit the actors rather than the other way around. To achieve this, the author and director audition various actors to determine the skill set of the actors who have turned up for the auditions. Unlike most plays, in this play you can choose which scenes to include based on the actors and time you have available.

Originally written for drama teachers working with students aged 9 to 18, this collection of short, snappy theater dialogues makes the perfect short break activity in any classroom, camp, or youth group situation. Students get much more out of these dialogues than just acting practice: they increase alertness, cultivate curiosity, boost literacy, and improve school attendance. The one-to-one dialogue format facilitates friendships and allows shy students to demonstrate new skills. Written by a family of drama experts, each dialogue centers around a theme related to young life: food, parents, hobbies, movies, even falling in love, to name just a few. Each dialogue is introduced with brief notes suggesting different ways of playing them at different ages and tips for adapting the dialogues to different age groups and situations. 101 Dialogues, Sketches, and Skits is part of the SmartFun Activity series from Hunter House, which includes over 25 titles that have sold more than 200,000 copies to date.

This collection introduces students to the stylistic analysis of drama. Written in an engaging and accessible style, the contributors employ a variety of language analysis techniques.

This is a full length stage play script.

This book introduces drama activities to children, including role play, mime, chants, puppets and short plays.

"When Mel Fell for Nell" is a series of scenes and monologues about the life of Mel and Nell. The play begins with when they fall in love, and follows them through breakups, marriage, children and disasters. But their love always brings them back together in the end.

Intense. Poignant. Moving. Powerful. The twenty short plays in this collection cover a broad spectrum of dramatic situations, including revenge, abuse, loneliness, homelessness, eating disorders, death, and relationships. With moods ranging from sentimental to hard-hitting and from heart-warming to heart-wrenching, the wide variety of topics provides ample opportunities for actors to explore stunning character arcs. These short plays, varying in length from 8 to 15 minutes, are all set in the present day and have cast sizes ranging from two to seven. Designed for optimal ease of use, each play comes complete with a synopsis, cast of characters, setting, and prop list, while the table of contents indicates the cast size and topic. Intended for actors high school age and older, most characters are in their teens or twenties and use language realistic for the situations with some mild profanity. Laurie Allen packs an incredible punch into each and every one of these scenes, making these short plays ideal for contests, a dramatic showcase, or as a conversation starter on a specific topic.
